

A HOUSE THAT OVER THE YEARS CONSTANTLY ADAPTED TO THE NEEDS OF AN, UP TO 8 INHABITANT GROWING HOUSEHOLD, WAS AT THE POINT OF THE GROWN UP SIXTH CHILD NO LONGER CAPABLE TO RESPOND 'SPACE RESOURCEWISE'. THE RESULTING DEMAND OF BOTH MORE INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL LIVING SPACE LEADED TO AN EXTENSION TOWARDS THE BACKYARD-SIDE OF THE GABLESTANDING 1930TH STRUCTURE. THE VERNACULAR STYLED WHITE BUILDING CLADDED IN WHITE PLASTER REMAINED TECTONICALLY EXEMPTED. THE ADAPTED NEW ELEMENTS CONSISTING OF A 'ONE-ROOM-BOX', A TERRASSE AND A FREESTANDING OUTDOOR CANOPY ARE THROUGH AND THROUGH STRUCTURED OUT OF WOOD PLANKS, WHICH INCORPORATE THE NATURAL DAYLIGHT AS THE PRIMARY MEANS OF DESIGN.
